QUAIL HABITAT RESTORATION UPDATES

Quail habitat scheduled burn was called off on January 13 due to higher-than-expected wind gusts after a test burn alongside the #9 green and the parking lot jumped the wet line that we had sprayed.

The burn parameters allowed for winds up to 15mph that morning, and they were 14mph when we tried a test burn. Higher gusts shot the flames over the safety area and ignited the dry bermuda rough grass to the right of the cart path by the green.

This area was still safeguarded by the nearby cart path, but it was decided that it was too risky to continue with the on-course areas, many of which are not near cart paths. The large fields by #12 and #13 were also deemed to risky in case a cedar tree ignited in the winds and jumped the breaks.

Arkansas Game and Fish Commission and Quail Forever in Arkansas experts said they will lower the acceptable levels of wind to closer to 5mph to compensate for the higher wind gusts on Big Creek's exposed areas.
